Langdon Concert Highly Successful

The Langdon Corner Sunday school held their Annual Christmas Concert in the church on December 19th. Singing of the carols and the acting done so very well by the children made the evening very pleasant for their parents and friends to watch. Many hours of training, were needed to make this such a success and congratulations to Mr. Dick Little, their superintendent who was well repaid by their efforts of the evening. After the concert, presents were distributed to the children of the Sunday school, and a box of candy to all the children present.

On Friday evening, December 21st the annual concert of the school was held in the church. A splendid program was presented by the children of the Junior grades, under the direction of their teacher Miss A. Hall. After this a one act comedy entitled, "All Cars to the Rescue," was put on by the students of the High School under the direction of their teacher, Mr. Vanderburg. The acting was well done and certainly brought out a good many laughs. Mr. Johnnie Barron assisted with the music for the evening.

After the program the raffle of the turkey took place. Lily Stevens drawing the winner Linda Hunter of Langdon. Santa Claus made his appearance and with the help of some of the high school students distributed the great pile of gifts under the tree, and to each child a bag of candy. To the teachers and to all those that made this such a huge success we extend our

WEDDING

ARMSTRONG—ORNBERN

The United Church at Gleichen was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, December 28th when Anna Belle third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Orsborn of Standard was united in marriage to William Armstrong Son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Armstrong of Calgary. The bride given away by her father looked very charming in a floor-length white satin gown with a finger-tip veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

She was attended by her sister Hazel who wore a floor-length gown in pale green with a shoulder-length veil to match. She carried a bouquet of red carnations.

The groom was supported by his brother Adam. A reception was held at the bride's home, which was attended by the bride party and immediate members of both families.

For going away on her wedding trip the bride chose a rose wool ensemble with black accessories.

After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong will return to Hussar. They will reside on the groom's farm north-east of Hussar after the bride has finished her term teaching.

RING OUT THE OLD

Another year in the course of the world has run its time, and a new one is being ushered in. As it pauses on the threshold to look in, it is not amiss to look about and wonder what it may hold in its hand, what accomplishments it may see, what hopes it may fulfill, or what dire forebodings it may bring.

Certainly the world will look for better things from the year 1947 than it received from the 1946. Civil wars, starvation, economic upheavals, strikes, uncertainty and insecurity were rampant, were the accepted thing.

The whole world will hope, we're sure, that 1947 may bring at least a certain measure of domestic peace to many who are suffering from starvation, from lack of shelter, from lack occasioned by the struggles between organized employees and organized employers. The whole world will hope that the "bright new world" for which a staid struggle was waged such a short time ago may not be only a catch phrase for wartime, but may, at least in some places, and at least partially, be an accomplished fact.

At least one ray of light is thrown through the doorway, by the very hopeful tone of the closing discussion of the United Nations. It was pointed out by more than one listener to the conference that, though much was still to be desired, still these deliberations had been far more successful, the accomplishments had been far greater, than had the talks following the first Great War.

There are other bright aspects to the situation also, but we feel the brightest is in man himself. . . . we have been shabby treated by many of the old 19 . . . 's, but in spite of it, mankind still looks forward to each New Year with hope, and with a brightness which he oftentimes cannot explain.

NIGHTINGALE

By Mrs. F. H.

Arlendie friends of Mr. and Mrs. Don Parsons held a shower and dance in their home at the hall on Wednesday, December 18. In spite of quite severe weather there was a large crowd and merriment and good will prevailed. The Kinney-Payne orchestra supplied the music for the dance. After supper Mr. Dick Hilton asked the bride and groom to come to a table covered with lovely gifts. He extended a warm welcome to the bride and asked them to accept the gifts along with all good wishes. Don and June each expressed their thanks and the crowd sang lustily for They are Jolly Good Fellows. The dance lasted to an early hour.

Mrs. Andy Christopherson arrived on December 17th from England. She had passage on the ship with the many delays. Andy is very happy now.

The annual school concert brought out a real crowd. The programme was excellent and a great credit to pupils.

and teachers, Miss Way and Miss Deans. Santa Claus made his appearance and the youngsters all had another very happy Christmas.

Mrs. John Hendricks, and son Albert and Mrs. Chris Cullen returned from Rochester, Minn. last Monday. Albert is very happy to be home again.

Tona Stoodley came from Edmonton and Myrtle came from Calgary to spend Christmas at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Farr entertained all their children on Christmas Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Meston went to Drumheller to spend part of the holidays with his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Harriman and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Harriman and children were Christmas Day guests of Dr. and Mrs. A. A. Downey in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Miller of Red Deer and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harriman and Ian were week end visitors at the Harriman home.

So far as known everyone had a Merry Christmas and we wish all a Happy New Year.

The New Year

The old year's script will soon be laid aside.

Its chapter in the saga of man's climb, With blotted pages neatly bound and tied,

Be indexed in the library of time. The students of a coming day shall read

This fragment in the venerable tale. Our modest triumphs graciously concede,

Our misdeeds and failures faithfully as sail.

Now strengthened by our sacred heritage,

The sum of man's slow gains through ages past.

We turn with eager hands the virgin page

Of this New Year, and hope to write at last

That those who follow in our steps may wear

The robes of peace as men their arms forswear.
